

Our Story

Quality nutrition for our companions who give us everything

Reward their loyalty with the nutrition they deserve.

For Jeff Edwards, his dog Tillman was more than just a family member – he was a lifesaver.

For Jeff Edwards, his dog Tillman was more than just a family member – he was a lifesaver.

Jeff was sitting on the couch with his beloved black lab, like he had done countless times before. But this time, Tillman started to act strangely rather than settling in. He began obsessively sniffing Jeff's face, refusing to leave him alone. Tillman continued to pester Jeff, smelling his face every chance he got.

Jeff had no idea why Tillman kept doing this.

A few weeks later during a doctor's diagnosis, Jeff found his answer. Thankfully, it was caught in the early stages, but the outcome may have been different without Tillman's keen sense of smell and unwavering persistence.

For Jeff, this incredible act of loyalty only deepened their relationship. Tillman had always been by Jeff's side—from mornings spent sipping coffee together to daily drives and long hunting trips. In Jeff's words, he was his best friend, and that bond only grew stronger after Tillman helped save his life.

Sometimes, life isn't fair, and their special connection was cut short.

As Tillman aged he began experiencing digestive issues. Soon after, he was diagnosed with kidney failure. Experts believe that Tillman's diet of low-quality kibble may have contributed to his illness and ultimate early passing.

And while his beloved black lab saved him, Jeff could not do the same. Due to its aggressive nature, the disease quickly progressed. Tillman passed away with Jeff by his side.

Elevate Pet Provisions was born soon after, with a mission to provide dogs with the best nutrition possible. Using high-quality, sustainable ingredients in a simple yet nutrient-dense formula, our air-dried dog food is farm-to-bowl—free from artificial colors, additives, preservatives, or fillers. Just wholesome ingredients you know and can pronounce. The type of food Jeff wishes Tillman had.

Tillman's legacy lives on. His face is featured on every bag of Elevate, which is Jeff's way of honoring his best friend.

Tillman, this one's for you.

SUSTAINABILITY & QUALITY

Traceable Ingredients

We won't allow our dog food to be infected by big commercial farming and ranching practices because the food quality suffers as does the plight of the rural economies.
