This course is very straightforward and easy to follow.

I really like having the training plan PDF that I can take out with me to various training areas and track where we are.

It's good info for people working on their trained final response for the first time or for people like myself who have a TFR but are fine-tuning it.

Joan B.

The progression of the steps all build on each other, reinforcing the value of target odor across a wide spectrum of HR odors. I appreciate the logical flow and how easy it is to return to a previous step when things need a bit more time to fully reinforce.

This course makes it easy to be a good trainer!

It simplifies the steps and the training progression so you understand how to prevent any confusion for your dog.

When your dog really gets it, they'll have a solid indication you can trust.

Dina B.

I found the discussion about how to assess your dog's progress and when to move forward (or step back) very helpful!
